Numb. 6611.

The Daily Courant.

Monday, December 31. 1722.

London December 31.

On Saturday arrived a Mail from Holland and two from Flanders, and Yesterday one from France.

Constantinople, November 3.

THE People of this City, the Troops especially, are in a violent Humour for a new War; and a Commotion must unavoidably have been the Consequence, if the Porte had not ordered extraordinary Preparations for Action against next Spring. The general Opinion is, that a Stop is intended to the growing Strength of the Czar of Muscovy towards the Caspian Sea; but were that the Case, there would be no Need of so great a Naval Armament as that which is getting ready here: A Grand Divan is to be conveened very soon, the Grand Visier will not determine any thing without its Advice; and at that Time 'tis probable the Designs of the Porte will be made publick. Mean while, the Arsenals are often visited by the Grand Signior, and great Quantity of new Cannon is casting. Achmet Aga being returned from his Errand into Persia, the Grand Vizier has held a Conference with the Mufti, the Kiaya, and the Reis Effendi, or Great Treasurer; the Result of it was, the Grand Vizier sent for the Russian Minister, and asked several Questions touching his Master's Designs, which have raised disagreeable Apprehensions in the Grand Signior's [illegible] The Minister answered, That the Czar has no Design to disquiet the Porte, but to the contrary, desires the Peace may be preserved with all possible Strictness [illegible] is to be feared that the Muscovites will fortify themselves about the River Tosso, (formerly Phasis) and 'tis said that the Georgians and Inhabitants of Mingrelia, (the Country of the ancient Colchis) submitted themselves to the Russians after they defeated the Daguestan Tartars: These unpleasant Particulars have occasioned the sending of Mesti Mahomet into Russia, to engage the Czar not to give further Uneasiness to the Porte, and by that Means to prevent a War, which otherwise will certainly break out, seeing the Cham of Tartary has wrote to the Grand Signior, that if the Muscovites will not retire, he can no longer hinder the Tartars, and especially one of their Chiefs, named Delcham Czeren, from attacking them. ---- Here is a Rumour, that the King of Persia has offered to the Czar to yield him two Provinces, if he will re-establish him on his Throne; and that the Persian Monarch bitterly reproaches the Grand Signior, for suffering him to be so far reduced as to call in the Czar's Aid, for Want of his own. ---- The Rebels continue the Siege of Ispahan. ---- An Express is sent to the Cham of Tartary, with Orders to observe the Motions of the Czar's Troops, but yet to forbear coming to a Rupture.

Madrid, Dec. 14. The Envoy of Genoa had Yesterday his first publick Audience of their Catholick Majesties, in which he asked Pardon in the Name of his Principals for their Behaviour in the Affair of Cardinal Alberoni. His Majesty's Answer to what the Envoy said upon that Occasion is not yet made publick; but it is known the Queen's Answer was, That she hoped the Republick would for the future avoid giving the King Occasion of being displeased with them, and in that Supposition she granted them her Friendship.

Madrid, Dec. 22. On the 18th Instant, their Catholick Majesties, and the Prince and Princess of Asturias, returned to the Palace in this City. The 19th being the King's Birth-Day, his Majesty then entring the 40th Year of his Age, the Grandees, Nobility, Foreign Ministers, and City Communities, paid the usual Compliments on that Occasion, and were admitted to kiss his Majesty's Hand. On the 18th in the Morning, the King's Houshold-Troops, with the Officers appointed to attend on Mademoiselle de Beaujolois, future Spouse of the Infante Don Carlos, set out from hence under the Orders of the Duke de Ossuna, who it goes to receive that Princess at Truxo, on the Frontiers of Portugal, where she is expected to arrive the 30th Instant, and to conduct her to this City. The Duke is accompanied by the Marquess de la Rosa, whom the King has appointed to be the Princess's Major-Domo for the Week; the Countess of Lemos her first Lady of the Bed-Chamber; the Countess of Rosso her Lady of Honour; four Women of the Bed-chamber, and the rest of her Houshold Officers.

Lisbon, Dec. 19. Yesterday Morning His Britannick Majesty's Ship the Lyon sailed out of this River for Barbadoes, having on board the Governour Colonel Worsley, who has had great Honours shewed him at this Court. His Portuguese Majesty ordered Provisions of all Kinds sufficient for the Voyage to be put on Board. M. de Mendonça, Secretary of State, dined with him the Day he imbarked, accompanied him to the Water-side, and would have gone with him on Board to take Leave of him there, but Mr. Worsley would not permit him. Twenty two Ships are now seen off the Bar, which our Merchants take to be the Fleet from the Bahia. On the 2d Instant His Britannick Majesty's Ship the Colchester came into this River, having sprung her Foremast in the late Storm at Sea. Yesterday the Dursley Galley, another British Man of War, arrived here from Gibraltar, having left the Falmouth Man of War on the 13th Instant cruising in the Streights Mouth.

From on Board his Majesty's Ship the Dragon in the Mole of Genoa, Dec. 11, O. S. His Majesty's Ship the Lyme, commanded by the Lord [illegible] Beauclair sailed from hence on the 7th Instant to cruise in the Streights Mouth. The Revolution being now ready for the Sea, Commodore Scot has ordered Captain Stewart in the Winchester to convoy her to Gibraltar, whence it is designed the Falmouth shall proceed with her to England: But in case the Falmouth shall have left that Station, then Captain Stewart has Orders to convoy her Home.

Vienna, Dec. 19. The Emperour has declared his Resolution of going next Spring to Prague in Bohemia with the Empress and Archduchesses. The Empress will first go in the Month of April to drink the Waters at Carlsbad. 'Tis said, that while the Court continues at Prague, the Imperial Palace here is to be re-built: The Chancery of the Empire, the Aulick Council, the Chanceries of Hungary and Bohemia, &c. are all to be removed to Prague: Mean while, Prince Eugene of Savoy is to stay here in Quality of Regent, with several Counsellors. It is computed, that the States of Bohemia furnish 500,000 Florins, and that a certain Bohemian Nobleman has promised to advance 300,000 more towards defraying the Expences of this Journey, the chief Object of which is said to be the Coronation of her Imperial Majesty. The Inhabitants of this City are under great Concern at the Court's going from hence, fearing their Trade will suffer, should the Imperial Family stay away two Years, as 'tis apprehended they will. ---- Advice is received, that the Electoral Princess of Bavaria is with Child. ---- The Duke of Mecklenbourg has a further Respite of two Months granted him to give Obedience to the Emperour's Mandates, cases, and in Case he does not submit in that Term, he will infallibly be proceeded against by way of Military Execution, according to the Statutes of the Empire.

Hamburg, Dec. 29. The Letters that are just come in from Petersbourg advise, that Advice was newly received from Moscow of their Czarish Majesty's being arrived there the 28th past from Astracan, and designed, by the first Opportunity of Sledges, to set out from thence for Petersbourg. A Muscovite Commissary is arrived here to transact some Affairs for the Czar; Part of his Errand is to hire a good Number of Persons skilled in the Nature of Mines, and other curious Matters, to which Purpose he is provided with sufficient Bills of Exchange to advance to those People the Expences of their Journey to Russia. This Commissary reports, that M. Wolphalen, the King of Denmark's Envoy at Moscow, is caressed there preferably to the rest of the foreign Ministers, in that his Negociation thrives according to his Wishes. - - - It is reported, that the Mortality among the Cattle in Denmark still continues.

Paris, Jan. 5. Advices from Rome say, that the Pope continues very ill, and that his Distemper is very dangerous. - - - On Sunday last M. de Brissac, Councellour of Parliament, was taken with a Fit of an Apoplexy at High Mass in the Church of St. Sulpice; he was carried immediately to a Surgeons but died in a Quarter of an Hour afterwards, in the 33th Year of his Age.
